

In the first place, the plants are arranged in order of their growth, from the simplest to the most complex. The first plant is a simple leaf, and the second is a cluster of leaves. The third is a long, narrow leaf, and the fourth is a dense, bushy structure. Each plant is labeled with a small handwritten word in a cursive script.

In the second place, the plants are arranged in order of their growth, from the simplest to the most complex. The first plant is a simple leaf, and the second is a cluster of leaves. The third is a long, narrow leaf, and the fourth is a dense, bushy structure. Each plant is labeled with a small handwritten word in a cursive script.

