

THE BASIC WORD WHEEL

The Word Wheel is an apparatus for putting words in the right order automatically. It is named the 'Panopticon' because all the necessary units are seen together.

In its simplest form<sup>1</sup> it is made of cardboard and is the same size as a small phonograph record. There are seven wheels or circles one on top of the other, and on the edges of these circles words are printed, so that when these circles are turned in the right way, the words make sense on a line left to right from the middle of the circle.

First get these words fixed in a line :
→ WILL GIVE SIMPLE RULE(S) TO BOY SLOWLY.
Then you have everything as in the picture—

<sup>1</sup> Price 2/6 (70 cents) from The Orthological Institute,
10, King's Parade, Cambridge, England.

183

274